

Big Four Opens First Meeting In Five Years; Not "Hopeful"

BERLIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault proposed to the Big Four today that German and Austrian problems be settled ahead of any discussion of Asian problems.

Bidault's statement was made at the opening session of the Big Four conference in Berlin called to ease world tensions.

At this first such meeting in five years, Bidault said:

"Clearly our meeting should be devoted to European problems. I do not believe that agreements reached on a broad plane will be advisable or even effective. We do not see why the fate of Austria should depend on that of Korea, why there should be established a link between the unification of Germany and a change of the international accords governing Communist China."

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

BERLIN (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers met today for the first time in five years to see whether Russia and the West can find a way to live together more peacefully.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Russia's Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, and France's Georges Bidault began their historic but not too hopeful Berlin sessions in the Allied Control Authority building in the American sector.

It was Molotov's first visit to West Berlin since the 1945 Potsdam conference. It was Dulles' first major diplomatic mission since he became secretary of state.

The four sat down together with their advisers around a square table under a ceiling painting of the angel Gabriel blowing his trumpet of doom.

Pose For Pictures

Their first business was to pose for photographers of four nations and two half-nations—East and West Germany. They allowed 15 minutes for the picture taking.

Dulles and Molotov arrived more than a half hour early to have a preliminary talk on conference arrangements, such as the choice of a chairman. Attention was centered on any meeting of these two principals particularly in view of the impending discussions on world atomic energy control proposed by President Eisenhower and received sympathetically by Moscow.

In a fleet of big, black limousines, the top world statesmen raced through the streets of divided Berlin to converge on the neutral grounds of a building where the four powers once met in harmony to preside over the ashes of Hitler's crumbled empire.

German Unification

The critical business of the Big Four over the next three or four weeks will be German unification, the place of Red China and Austrian independence. In battling out such issues they will find whether the cold war can be eased or not.

As motorcades for each minister swept through the marble gateway and around the oval drive, flags of all four countries whipped from four high white staffs before the entrance. German crowds watched as best they could from behind police barriers.

The whole area was heavily guarded by American MPs and West German police.

Dulles, Eden and Bidault already had held three preliminary talks here to perfect their joint strategy for dealing with Molotov, American officials were convinced they had achieved a solid front.

Eases Some Tensions

The Berlin conference seemed more likely to result in a strengthening of the drive for West European defenses against Soviet power than in solving the problems of German unity, Austrian independence and cold war tensions generally.

Yet some Western diplomats felt the mere fact of the meeting opening today had already produced some lessening of tension.

The Big Four ministers' last meeting was in mid-1949 after the Russians had lifted the Berlin blockade—which the American airlift had already broken. That meeting was their eighth.

Since then, the West has integrated and built its strength. Both the United States and Russia have exploded hydrogen bomb devices. Joseph Stalin has taken over as premier of the Soviet Union.

Saw Many Changes

Also: A Republican party administration has displaced the Democrats in the United States. War has erupted and ended in Korea.

The Big Four assembled in Berlin today to find out whether these historic events had changed their relations.

American officials were convinced no basic change has occurred—except that the Western Powers have grown stronger

BUPP - BEAM BATTLE AIRED IN COURT TODAY

An Adams County jury started the January term trials this morning by hearing testimony on the November 7 squabble of the Bupp-Beam family at Aspers.

The case started with attorneys flipping coins to find out who was defending whom and who was prosecuting whom.

When the coin tossing ended, the two attorneys appointed to represent the various parties involved wound up with District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter representing Mrs. Robert Bupp in her prosecution of Mrs. Eva Beam, Hunter's Run, on a charge of assault and battery. He is also defending Mrs. Bupp's husband, Robert Bupp, on a charge of assault and battery brought by Mrs. Beam. Attorney Charles Wolf is defending Mrs. Beam in the charge brought against her by Mrs. Bupp and representing Mrs. Beam in the charge she brought against Mr. Bupp.

More Coin Tossing

More coin tossing decided that Mrs. Bupp's prosecution should not start the case. Witnesses on the stand, including Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bupp and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bupp, told this story this morning:

Mrs. Beam, her daughter, Vonnice Beam Bupp, and Glenn Hockley, all of the Hunter's Run area, stopped at the home of Robert Beam in Aspers. The car of Bruce Bupp, brother of Robert Bupp, husband of Vonnice Bupp and son-in-law of Mrs. Beam, was parked near the Robert Beam home.

Mrs. Beam asked where Bruce was and was told he was not there. The witnesses said there were some allegations of prevarication plus some profanity in remarks that followed. According to the scene described by the witnesses the various Bupps in the Bupp house, who previously had been quietly watching television and drinking beer, left the house for the lawn.

Mrs. Beam allegedly left the car and slapped Robert Bupp. He said (Continued on Page 2)

Engaged

MISS SCHACHLE

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Schachle, Biglerville, announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn Marie, to George A. Miller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Miller, 12 Carlisle St., at an engagement party held at the Miller summer home, Marsh Creek Heights, Saturday evening.

Miss Schachle, who is a graduate of the Biglerville High School, attended a business college in Harrisburg. She is presently employed as a secretary at the Keystone Ceramic Corporation, Bendersville. She is a member of the Harrisburg Athletic Board of Women Officials and the Adams County Girl Scout Council.

Mr. Miller, a graduate of Gettysburg High School, was graduated from Gettysburg College with the class of 1953 where he received an A.B. degree in history. He is a member of Kappa Phi Kappa Fraternity. He was a member of the college golf team and was president of the Newman Club. He is an instructor at the Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Va.

No date has been set for the wedding.

FIRE FOLLOWS PIPE THAWING AT GRACE HOME

Use of a blow torch to thaw frozen pipes apparently led to a $1,000 fire at the home of Burton Grace, 3 1/2 miles north of here on the Harrisburg Rd., at 5:25 o'clock Saturday evening.

That was the only explanation members of the Grace family could give firemen as the cause of the flames in a double partition between an old section of the home, owned by Irvin Grace, and a new section of the house.

The torch had been used earlier in the afternoon, firemen reported. About 5:25 o'clock members of the family noticed smoke, investigated and found that a fire had started in the partition. They called the fire company and in the meantime cut a hole in the partition and poured buckets of water on the blaze.

Firemen credited the quick action with preventing a more serious fire.

Three Chimney Blazes

In other fires Saturday the home of Lloyd Lupp, Idaville, was the scene of two chimney fires. The Bendersville company was called at 10 o'clock Saturday morning to extinguish a chimney fire. The flames extinguished, Bendersville returned home. An hour later the chimney was ablaze again and York Springs was called. This time the firemen thoroughly cleaned the chimney.

Abbottstown firemen were called Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of Charles Crawford in Abbottstown.

Woman Is Thrown Against Mate's Car

Mrs. Pauline H. Miller, 136 West St., suffered bruises of the hip when struck by a car driven by her husband, Donald L. Miller, Sunday evening at 9:40 o'clock at the intersection of Baltimore St. and Lincoln Square.

Borough police, who investigated, said Mrs. Miller grasped the handle of the car door, just as Mr. Miller drove away, and she was thrown against the rear fender, suffering the hip injury. She was removed to the Warner hospital where X-rays showed no bones to be broken.

Police are continuing their investigation.

KIMMEL - HELLER NUPTIALS READ SATURDAY NIGHT

Miss Betsy Mae Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Heller, Biglerville, became the bride of Fred Sterling Kimmel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kimmel, Mechanicsburg, in a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville. The Rev. Henry W. Sternat, pastor, was the officiating clergyman.

Mrs. Sternat, organist, played traditional wedding marches and was accompanied the vocalist, Gelpin Cooke, Dillsburg, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon net designed with a full skirt and chapel train. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a white prayer book and a white orchid bouquet.

Matron of Honor

The matron of honor, Lt. Norma Bonadonna, of Sampson Air Force Base, N. Y., wore a floor-length gown of orchid nylon net trimmed with dark purple velvet.

HONOR PARENTS ON THEIR 60TH ANNIVERSARY

Plans of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Weikert, McKnightstown, to observe their 60th wedding anniversary "very quietly" Sunday went away when their children held a surprise party for them at the home of a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Crouse, Littlestown.

Both in good health and both 84, Mr. and Mrs. Weikert had planned to spend the day at home. Mrs. Weikert explained, "We don't go out much this kind of weather, that's how we stay in good health."

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Crouse drove to the Weikert home and after some discussion persuaded Mr. and Mrs. Weikert to go to Littlestown with them, "for a quiet family dinner."

When they arrived they found their son and daughter-in-law, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. John Weikert, Washington D. C., awaiting them at the Crouse home. Another son, Paul, York, was unable to return in time from a business trip in Chicago, but had sent gifts.

"Pleasant Anniversary"

Mr. Weikert said today: "It was a much more pleasant anniversary than we had expected."

The couple was married January 24, 1894, by the Rev. Dr. T. J. Barkley, at the Trinity Reformed Church parsonage, then located on Carlisle St. Mrs. Weikert is the former Laura Weikert of Freedom Twp.

The couple farmed until 1907 when Mr. Weikert entered the blacksmith business. He continued as a blacksmith until 1918, then went into the truck and bus body business and continued at that employment until 1938. Then he began construction of furniture and continues to "putter around making furniture at the present time." Among other articles, he has made through the years are 160 walnut corner cupboards.

2 Sale Days Friday, Saturday

The annual Gettysburg Sale Days sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association will be held Friday and Saturday. It was announced today. Stores of the 50 participating merchants will remain open Friday and Saturday evening.

The Association announced that more than $900 will be given away in gift certificates by the merchants, in addition to the three grand cash prizes of $75, $50 and $25.

The three cash prizes will be drawn for Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock in Lincoln Square. The more than $900 in gift certificates will be drawn by each individual merchant Saturday evening at 9 o'clock.

With every purchase of merchandise from the participating merchants Sale Day tickets will be awarded.

"A wide variety of exceptional bargains will be available by the merchants," a spokesman for the Association said. "These will be well worth the while of our customers. These sale days are designed for their benefit and to this end we aim our sights. It is our way of demonstrating our appreciation for their patronage."

6 DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED TO COUNTY AG UNIT

Six directors of the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association were re-elected at the annual meeting of the organization Saturday in the York Springs Fire Hall.

The re-elected directors include: Mrs. Howard Schwartz, Littlestown R. D.; Mrs. Clarence Shultz, Taneytown R. D.; A. B. C. Williams, York Springs; George Roscoe Worley, Hanover R. D.; Joseph Stoner, East Berlin, and Myles Starnier, Aspers.

Goals of the family and community were outlined in a panel discussion "Looking Backward to '33 and Forward to '54," presented during the morning.

Taking part in the panel were Miss Mary Jane Mickey, county home economics extension representative, as moderator; Harold Garretson for the Senior Extension Club; James Behney for the 4-H Clubs; Janet Beitman, Mrs. Herbert Zepp and Mrs. George Krug for the adult Home Economics groups, and A. B. C. Williams and Howard Waybright for the agriculture groups.

Cite Research Work

Among the goals listed were: better family relations, financial security, better social activities, especially church sponsored social activities; better recreation facilities, safety, better health, more cooperative activities in communities, better education and extended friendships.

The speaker declared that research carried out by the extension department was one of the "greatest helps" they had toward achieving their goals in 1953. The listed information on new fabrics, foods, methods of agriculture and maintenance of machinery as among the "helps" received from extension.

They urged getting more information to the general public of the assistance they can obtain from Extension, securing more leaders, more extensive promotion of 4-H Club work, additional district meetings on various subjects and possible es-

HORACE BENDER PRESIDENT OF LOCAL CLUBS

Horace L. (Piney) Bender, secretary of the local Eagles lodge, was elected president of the Gettysburg Association of Clubs Sunday morning at a meeting held at the Eagles home on Chambersburg St. He succeeds Charles Lauver, secretary of the Moose, to the presidency.

Thomas J. Collingsworth, president of the VFW Home Association, was named vice president, succeeding C. David McCullough, of the Eagles. Renamed as secretary and treasurer respectively were Arthur J. Roth of the VFW and Harold Wentz of the Albert J. Lentz Post of the American Legion.

A committee headed by Paul Anzengruber of the American Legion, was appointed by the new president to serve as an investigative body to determine some method of providing better parking facilities for the borough.

Offer Suggestions

The parking project was adopted by the group following a lengthy discussion in which numerous suggestions were made of possible methods to alleviate the problem, particularly on Saturdays.

MISS MACKLEY WEDS SATURDAY IN LITTLESTOWN

Miss Shirley M. Mackley, 568 Woodbine St., Harrisburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mackley, 158 E. King St., Littlestown, and William R. Hoffert, Camp Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hoffert, Camp Hill, were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran Church, Littlestown.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. W. C. Karns. The bride was attended by her paternal aunt, Mrs. Elmer Clabaugh, Hanover, as matron of honor. The groom chose for his best man, his brother, John B. Hoffert, Mechanicsburg, R. 3.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a powder blue wool street length dress with navy blue accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds. The matron of honor wore a pink faille street length dress with navy blue accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and violets.

Prior to the ceremony, a fifteen-

PEACHES OFF IN STATE BUT RISE IN THIS SECTION

Although the number of peach trees in Pennsylvania has dropped off more than one-third during the last 20 years, there has been an increase in the Adams-Franklin-York fruit belt, the annual meeting of the State Horticultural Association was told in York today.

K. R. Slamp, director of the Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, distributed first copies of a printed report on a "Pennsylvania Fruit Tree Survey." It was made in 1953 by the Bureau with the cooperation of county agents, extension specialists and the Federal State Crop Reporting Service, and is the first such survey made in Pennsylvania in 30 years. It covers, apples, peaches and red sour cherries.

Between the 1930 and 1950 U. S. Censuses, Slamp said, the number of commercial apple orchards — those with 100 or more trees — decreased 53 per cent and the number of trees dropped 55 per cent. Peach orchards declined 55 per cent in 20 years and the number of trees fell off 36 per cent for the State, but the Adams-Franklin-York County area had an increase of 18 per cent in trees.

142 Varieties Grown

The survey revealed that while the number of peach orchards has decreased, the size of orchards has advanced. Of the 44 communities (Continued on Page 5)

BUTLER TWP. AUDITORS FILE ANNUAL REPORT

Butler Township improved its financial picture by $1,334.19 during 1953 despite an increased program of expenditures exceeding by $1,620.23 the total for the 1952 fiscal period, the annual auditors' report filed with the clerk of courts office pointed out.

The statement revealed Butler's cash balance at the conclusion of 1953 as $4,253.09, after beginning the year with a sum of $2,918.90. Expenditures totaled $20,327.18 while in '52 the figure was $18,706.55.

The township's debt at the start of 1954 amounted to $1,616.03, showing a decrease of $1,000 during last year.

Township supervisors spent $1,197.52 on general government, including $364.13 for compensation of the tax collector, an increase of $114.43 from 1952 and $340.81 for compensation of the secretary-treasurer a drop of $139.51 from the '52 amount.

The township spent $12,992.47 on its 34.9 miles of highways and six bridges. This figure showed $4,320.38 for maintenance of roads and bridges, $2,805.48 for construction of roads, $7,542.26 for repair of tools and machinery, and $16.70 for new tools and machinery.

Steve Nelson, Red Leader, Is Freed By Supreme Court

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The State Supreme Court today set aside the conviction of Steve Nelson, western Pennsylvania Communist party leader, on charges of violating the State Sedition Act.

Justice Charles Alvin Jones wrote the majority opinion and Justice John C. Bell Jr. dissented. Justices Michael Musmanno and John C. Arnold took no part in the case.

A brief concurring opinion was signed by Chief Justice Horace Stern and Justices Allen Stearns and T. McKen Chidsey.

The high tribunal overrode a verdict of the Allegheny County Court which had been upheld by the State Superior Court.

Nelson had been convicted on 12 counts of an indictment which charged him with attempting to overthrow the government of the United States by force and violence contrary to the 1919 State Sedition Act.

Nelson, denied a new trial, had been sentenced to pay a $10,000 fine, costs of prosecution amounting to about $13,000 and serve a prison term of 20 years.

It was this verdict that the Supreme Court reversed at the same time quashing the indictments against Nelson.

In the concurring opinion, the three justices said "sedition against the United States is not a local offense. It is a crime against the nation. As such, it should be prosecuted and punished in the federal courts where this defendant has in fact been prosecuted and convicted and is now under sentence."

Justice Jones, in his 15-page opinion, detailed a number of reasons why the high tribunal set aside the Nelson conviction in the state courts.

GRANT DELAY IN ONDA CASE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court today granted a temporary delay in the sentencing of Andrew Onda, convicted of violating the State Sedition Act by advocating the overthrow by force of the federal government.

Onda presently is a patient in the hospital of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York City where he is undergoing treatment for a heart condition. He was called for sentencing before Judge Henry X. O'Brien of the Allegheny County Court of Quarter Sessions but had asked delay on grounds of his illness.

The high tribunal, in a brief per curiam decision, asked Judge O'Brien and the Allegheny County district attorney to show cause by Feb. 8 why "the sentencing of the petitioner (Onda) should not be stayed pending his discharge" from the hospital or until "final disposition" of the case involving Steve Nelson, whose conviction of violating the State Sedition Act was set aside today.

Onda was tried and convicted of the same charges as Nelson. Chief Justice Horace Stern had granted a temporary delay in the sentencing of Onda, scheduled for earlier this month, pending review of his request by the entire court. Both Onda and Nelson were convicted in August of 1951.

"Heart-Shattering Shock"
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court said today the court's decision freeing Communist Steve Nelson "is a threat to the security of our commonwealth and the nation."

Musmanno was a witness against Nelson and did not participate in the Supreme Court consideration of the case. He issued this statement after the court announced its decision.

"The decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in releasing Steve Nelson is a threat to the security of our commonwealth and the nation, and must come as a heart shattering shock to the parents of every American boy killed by Communist bullets in Korea where Nelson was held up as a hero of the Red armies."

"After analyzing the complete text of the court's majority opinion, I will as a citizen of the United States and as a private prosecutor in the case file an official protest. 'I believe the people are entitled to know how and why they are again being menaced by Steve Nelson, the most dangerous Communist in the United States today, especially after they had reason to believe that the law had curbed him and his criminal communist co-conspirators.'

Penn Ceramic Files Answer In Court Suit

The Penn Ceramic Manufacturing Co., Inc., Saturday filed an answer to charges by the International Mineral and Chemical Corp. of non-payment of merchandise claimed to have been delivered to the site of the Aspers plant.

The statement avers that the merchandise was delivered following an oral contract made on or before October 20, 1952, by a representative of the Consolidated Feldspar Co., Trenton, N. Y.

Penn Ceramic's answer, filed with the prothonotary, further denies that the defendant agreed to pay the International Mineral and Chemical Corp. the prices charged for the merchandise and freight rates as set forth in the plaintiff's exhibits.

THE Camera COLUMN

By Dave Garfinkle

Many an amateur photographer may scoff at the idea of tabletop photography, calling it "kid stuff." Well, it's not. In one of its forms, using miniature models, tabletop photography is a multi-million dollar industry. The terms apply to the picturing of any miniature scene in a manner to tell a story.

Some of the greatest scenes in many of the best movies are filmed using the tabletop technique. Noted illustrative and advertising photographers may spend hundreds of dollars in arranging a single tabletop set-up that will get across the idea they want to portray. The armed services, our great universities, and many other institutions use tabletop set-ups in making training films and slides. Books are even illustrated with tabletop pictures.

We don't have to win a war or operate an industry with our own little tabletop efforts, but we can use them to have a lot of photographic fun. You can make any kind of scene look real. Blue paper filled with miniature cotton-ball clouds will create a realistic outdoor setting. . . salt sprinkled on the stage will make it a snow scene. . . dime store dolls can people the miniature setting.

Photography is fun. . . and tabletop photography is one way to many an exciting evening at home. You'll want to use color for your tabletop work. . . so see us for your supply of color film today. DAVE'S PHOTO SUPPLY, 52 Chambersburg St., Gettysburg. Phone 83-W.

Junior Choir Sings

The Junior Choir of Redeemer's Reformed Church sang the anthem "Lead Us, Heavenly Father," Hollar, during the worship service on Sunday morning. The choir was accompanied by Mrs. Elwood H. Leister, Hanover, guest organist for the service, who was formerly the organist at Redeemer's Church. The pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, presented a sermon on the subject "Overcoming Evil." The epistle lesson was taken from Romans 12:16-21 and the gospel lesson from Matthew 8:1-13.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds announced that the following have been welcomed into the church membership, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Basehoar and Mrs. Carolyn Orndorff Fry. The pastor also announced that those wishing to place flowers in the church altar vases on a given Sunday should sign the flower chart on the narthex bulletin board.

Coming events at Redeemer's Church follow: Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., confirmation class meeting in the church social hall. Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., annual congregational meeting when the yearly financial reports of the various organizations of the church will be given, and Miss Mary Jane Staley will show 3-D pictures of her tour through Europe last summer and fall. She has requested that those who have 3-D glasses bring them along to view the slides. Thursday, 6:30 p.m., Junior Choir rehearsal; 7:30 p.m., Senior Choir rehearsal. Sunday, January 31, 10:30 a.m., in observance of Youth Sunday, the young people of the church will conduct the worship service.

"NIGHTTIME SNOW"

I saw the diamond snowflakes fall . . . beneath my feet lay glistening . . . and shrill winds echoed in my ears . . . that were too cold for listening . . . my eyes beheld a sombre sky . . . that seemed to hover closely . . . and tree and bush were cloaked in white . . . and all looked rather ghostly . . . but nonetheless I marveled at . . . the sight that held me spell-bound . . . and as I plodded through the night . . . my heart began to resound . . . and when I reached my humble home . . . and cuddled by the fire . . . I thought about the nighttime snow . . . sweet dreams when I retire.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Clinton Bream, formerly of W. Middle St., will observe their 53rd wedding anniversary quietly on Thursday at their home, Seffner, Fla.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bream were born and reared in Tyrone Twp. They were married January 28, 1901, at the St. James Lutheran parsonage on York St. here by the Rev. A. R. Steck. Mr. Bream has been a farmer most of his life but for about 10 years after World War I operated the "Center Square Garage" on York St. opposite the Gettysburg National Bank. He farmed in Mt. Pleasant, Highland and Latimore Twp. Mr. and Mrs. Bream have lived in Florida since 1941.

The couple's four children are: Dr. Robert A. Bream, member of the faculty of Lehigh University, who recently was in Gettysburg en route from a visit with his parents in Florida; Wilmer R. Reno, Nevada; Irene, now Mrs. Dennis Freed, Quakertown, R. D. Pa., and Ruth, now Mrs. John Richter, Harrisburg.

2 FUGITIVES ARE SEEN ON TV

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (P)—Postal authorities were on the lookout here for a couple who tried to "strike it rich" on the television program of the same name.

Police in Austin, Tex., sent out an alarm for a man and woman who appeared on the TV show in New York Jan. 11, identifying themselves as George and Joan Poper of Quarryville, Pa. Poper told a story about having four crippled children. He later won about $165.

The show was filmed, and an Austin TV viewer who saw a re-tecast of the program Friday notified police that she recognized the couple and accused them of taking $383.50 in cash, groceries, a pistol and other items from her father-in-law's grocery store and motel last November.

In Texas, Travis County Sheriff T. O. Lang said the Popers were indicted by a Travis County grand jury last November on charges of embezzlement and theft by bailor.

At Quarryville, meanwhile, postal authorities said several pieces of mail from various sections of the nation and addressed to George

Pennsylvanian, Ill, Dies In Crash

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (P)—A New Cumberland, Pa., man died with two other persons in the crash of a light plane into a hillside 12 miles south of San Diego, Saturday night.

Deputy Coroner Jess Canale identified the Pennsylvania victim as William H. Wessel, who became ill while visiting here and was being flown home as a stretcher patient. The other victims were Fred Elser, 33, chief pilot for a flying service here, and Dr. William T. Booth of Coronado, Calif.

A witness said he saw the plane bank to the right and then go into a vertical crash. The weather was overcast and visibility was poor at the time. There was no fire or explosion.

Poper were being held in general delivery because the name was not among delivery route listings in that area.

Police Chief Lester Ressel said the Popers would be arrested if they put in an appearance to claim the mail.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

GOOD NIGHT, MY FRIENDS

Never do I enter my library, with books now reaching in shelves from the floor to the ceiling, without a sense of warmth and welcome, radiating into every nook and corner of the room. Willingly does each book yield itself to my fingers as I draw it from its other companions upon the shelf.You see, in a library, all books are friends. A library is a perfect democracy. The reader is supreme judge over all disputes, or differences of opinion. Ah, in this library of mine are the selected minds of the world's thinkers, both grave and gay. And each one on call, as the mood decides.I am never alone in this sanctuary of knowledge and inspiration. I go on vacations from here.
In my imagination I go with Melville to get a look at his white whale. Stevenson invites me to take an afternoon off — or an early evening — to join his “Lantern Bearers.” Dickens and Gissing lead me into the darker spots of London life. Shakespeare arranges a play for my edification.
Robert Frost recites his “The Pasture” to me, and Leonard Merrick invites me as his guest to the theatre!Christopher Morley, my favorite American essayist, relates to me again his “Parnassus on Wheels,” and tells me how he happened to name his dog in “Where the Blue Begins,” after his favorite writer — Gissing. And over here in one treasured corner are the books by Jesse Stuart and I learn about his Kentucky hills, so beloved by him, and his tales about “Taps for Private Tussie” and
“The Good Spirit of Laurel Ridge.”
And that dear friend of mine, the incomparable “Bob” Davis, lives again to tell many an absorbing tale of his trips about the world.This library of mine, this silent retreat from the noises and confusions, this sanctuary of peace and consolation, this retreat from all fears, as I leave it — so often until the small hours of another day — habitually I say: “Good Night, my friends.”Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: “Daybreak.”

MOTHER'S COOKING
I merely state this as a fact
Of mother's cakes and pies:
Her recipes were not exact.
Their use I don't advise.
I can't recall that any book
Of rules she ever read.
She learned from grandma how to cook
And kept it in her head.When asked just what she used to tell
For biscuits, cakes or pies,
“A cup of flour sifted well;
Butter, a walnut size;
Be sure the oven's hot,” she'd say,
“Some pop it in too soon.
A pinch of salt's the proper way.
I never use a spoon.”If mother's method was by guess,
And not precisely scaled,
I'll say she cooked with great success,
And very seldom failed.
The modern way may better be,
As all the experts hold,
But mother's cooking suited me
In those good days of old.

Your Income Tax

(First of Six Articles)
By FRANK O'BRIENWASHINGTON (P)—You must file an income tax return on or before March 15 if you made as much as $600 in 1953.You must report your income even if legal deductions are large enough to relieve you of paying any tax. You may even get money back after filing a return. Most employers deduct taxes from pay.
It's the law. Many taxpayers find that such deductions are larger than the amount they owe.The earlier you get your return in, the sooner you will get any refund that may be due. Things also will be speeded up if you print “refund” on the envelope in which you turn in such a return. It will get priority treat-

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE to wish you a Happier New Year—with pictures: more lens laughs, camera chuckles and fun in photography. An injection of humor not only gives a much needed lift to the normal diet of pictures for the family album, but it is more apt to interest a wider audience and may even find an outside market.That is exactly what happened to camera fan John Patrick, a 61-year-old paperhanger of St.
James, N. Y. For years he has been getting laughs out of gag pictures he has made through careful double and triple exposures. They made an effective two-page feature in Life magazine's “Speaking of Pictures” department recently . . . at $150 per page.Here, incidentally, is a ready-made target for the nation's snapshooters because Life's “S. O. P.” welcomes outside contributions at that same fee (double it for color) on any photographic theme that is humorous, imaginative or provocative.The average amateur, of course, doesn't start out with a newspaper or magazine market in mind. But he can keep his camera eye alert for the humorous touch wherever he goes.CHILDREN and pets are a constant source for likely material —especially in their uninhibited actions. Too often, we photographers ruin the rod picture possibilities of spontaneous action because we insist on a “Come here—hold it—now smile at me” attitude.Sometimes mothers have to be educated or outwitted when they insist that to take baby's picture means baby has to be spruced up, hair combed and carefully set—so!
—in the high chair. A more natural shot—and more heartwarming to all—might be a rear view with diaper dragging tousled hair and hand outstretched for that vase just out of reach.After natural situations, some photographers advance to the point where they can contrive situations with humorous or ingenious picture results. In this field they are limited only by their equipment, skill and imagination.NOW LET'S get back to John Patrick and his deliberate doubleexposures. He used a gadget over his lens comparable to a matte box which has long been a standard item for trick pictures in professional movie making. (You can make double exposures without aOLD SMOOTHIES STAR IN SHOWHERSHEY, Pa. — The “Old Smoothies” are synonymous with Ice Capades of 1954, which open a two-week engagement at Hershey Sports Arena on Thursday evening, February 11. So popular are Orin Markhus and Irma Thomas, that Ice Capades audiences applaud them the minute Jerry May-hall's orchestra strikes up their theme melody, “You're An Old Smoothie.”Markhus, incidentally, might have devoted his athletic talents to two other professional sports.
He showed ability as a baseball player and, for a time, served as a golf professional. Fortunately, for his Ice Capades followers, he elected to follow figure skating.Mrs. Thomas met Markhus when she took her twin daughters to him for figure skating lessons.
Later, after the Thomas twins made good with another ice show, Markhus induced Irma to become his skating partner.They auditioned for John H.
Harris, Ice Capades' producer, who gave them a job and dubbed them the “Old Smoothies.” From the start they became great favorites with audiences from coast-to-coast. Now in their twelfth year with Ice Capades, both are grandparents. However, they're far from ready to retire to rocking chairs, not by a long shot.The simplest gadget for double-exposure in still pictures is a cardboard lens cover with exactly half its face cut out. The camera must be on a tripod, immovable throughout the identical, separate exposures.
The cut-out lens cap is put on the lens—let's assume the right side.
When an exposure is made, only half the film is exposed. Then the lens cap is turned around to cover the left hand side of the lens.
Another exposure, therefore, exposes the balance of the same film.
Or the lens cap can mask the bottom half of the lens—then the top half (or vice versa).The dividing line between the two exposures may show, depending on the experience with which the lens is masked and exposuregadget over the lens provided you use a solid black background.The first fully automatic presetdiaphragm lens for a 35mm single-lens reflex camera is now being demonstrated in camera stores throughout the country. It's the 50mm, f2.8 Westar on the Pentacom camera ($249.50 for the combination). A single pressure on the release button automatically closes down the diaphragm which has been wide open for easier focussing (to a previously set aper-

Chambersburg, Allentown And Bloomsburg, Former Champs, Lead Way In State Cage Races

By DICK HOENIG

HARRISBURG (P)—The first five opening round championships to be decided in a 1953-54 scholastic cage play show three defending league titlists leading the way.

The three are Allentown, Bloomsburg and Chambersburg of the East Penn. Schuylkill and South Penn. circuits. All are unbeaten in conference action so far and have first half honors packed away before this week's final play.

Allentown and Chambersburg practically backed into the top rating Friday when their closest rivals lost, but Bloomsburg has won 28 Susquehanna contests over 2½ years—8 this season.

Other quintets safely perched atop the standings are Mahanoy Twp. of the North Schuylkill and Erie East of Dist. 10's Sect. 1. Mahanoy Twp., one of the state's all-winning squads, has compiled eight league wins in a row to nose out defending champion Ashland for first cycle honors. Erie East stopped Erie Academy to complete its first round with a triumph over every foe.

New Scoring Records

Two league scoring records went into the books over the weekend with Mahanoy Twp. getting 105 points against Shenandoah and Bethlehem of the East Penn swamping Hazleton, 112-65. The totals fall short of the recent high mark of 140 set by Wampum last year.

In aiming for Dist. 4 recognition through the Susquehanna, Bloomsburg is due to run into the present kingpin, Coal Twp. The Demons, although minus the high scoring Duda twins of last season, are well on the way to a third consecutive Keystone pennant. Coal racked up No. 17 in a row against Lebanon Catholic Friday, equaling the mark it set last season before running into Williamsport. The demons face two toughies this week, Berwick and then Williamsport Friday.

Yeadon's state champions, also without most of last year's first team, keep right on winning to become a real 1953-54 threat. The Eagles won their 11th straight of the year, outclassing Lansdowne, and are the only unbeaten club in the suburban Philadelphia 2 section.

Sharon, the club that lost to Yeadon last March, was the only district titlist to lose over the weekend. The Tigers suffered their second three-point setback of the year, against nine victories, in a WPIAL Sect. 3 contest against Ellwood City. Ellwood, loser only twice, was whipped by Farrell, 60-32, the chief threat to unseat Sharon.

Sharon and Farrell, the two Mercer County titans of the west, are set for the battle of the year tomorrow at Farrell. One or the other has been a participant in the last three state finals, Sharon losing to Yeadon last March, Farrell winning the year before and losing to Allentown in 1951.

For two years the pair have split regular season play. The winner of the first game is the one that has gone on to take league and succeeding honors for three seasons.

Chambersburg won the South Penn first half when Carlisle licked runnerup Hershey. Last season, although winning in the end, Chambersburg finished second to Carlisle in the first half and had to fight a playoff for the second half title.

Other fives assured of at least ties in opening half play are Lock Haven of the Central State; Coal Twp. of the Keystone, and Slatingsport of the Lehigh Valley.

HARRISON AND LITTLER WIN

The 23-year-old San Diego sailor conquered the pros in the 72-hole Open yesterday with a 14-under par score of 67-66-69-72—274.

Harrison finished with rounds of 69-67-71-71-72, while Cary Midgloff, with 70-67-70-73, and Ted Kroil, with 71-71-67-71, tied at 280 and won $1,600 apiece out of the $15,000 purse.

Bob Toski, Northampton, Mass., was fourth, with a 74 for 282 and $1,200, and Ed Furgol of St. Louis, with a 73 for 283, was the last one to cash in a four-figure check, $1,000.

Art Wall of Honesdale, Pa., got off at Pocomo aMnor, shot a 69-68-74-74-285 to pick up $650 in a three-way tie for sixth place with Jimmy Demaret and Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass.

VALDES RATED TOP THREAT TO HEAVY DIADEM

NEW YORK (P)—"Will he go?" someone asked flight manager Bobby Gleason in Miami.

"Look at his record!" replied Gleason, who manages Nino Valdes of Cuba. "He's lost four of his last five fights. Sure he knocked out Omelio Agramonte in Havana in 10 rounds. He was hungry. He got $200."

"Go" in fight parlance means a fighter will "take a dive," "go into the tank" or "get knocked out."

Cuban Valdes didn't go! He beat favored Ezzard Charles decisively. That's how Valdes, a 29-year-old former sugar plantation worker, became the No. 1 contender for Rocky Marciano's world's heavyweight championship.

The outcome was a surprise to many, but one former world's boxing champion who had seen Valdes fight won a nice bit of change warring on the Cuban.

Valdes' rise began last July soon after his boxing fortunes appeared at a new low. It was then that he knocked out Cuban champion Agramonte in the 10th round in Havana.

Agramonte was President Fulgencio Batista's pride and joy. He trained on a Batista ranch. Valdes looked like a setup. He had lost four straight. In order, they were to Harold Johnson, Archie Moore, Bill Gilliam and Bob Baker.

When the Valdes-Agramonte fight was over a brief story appeared in a Miami newspaper to record Valdes' knockout. It was about all the fight was worth. Despite the fact that Omelio was the Cuban champ his record in the last three years shows more defeats than victories.

"I've got a boy for Charles," said Miami promoter Chris Dundee as he scanned the paper.

Valdes Underrated Dundee had little trouble getting Jake Mintz, Charles' manager, to take the match. As they say in the trade, it looked like another payday. Valdes just didn't figure in Charles' class.

The Charles bout, which drew a sellout crowd and $16,000 at $8 tops, turned into the first real payday Valdes ever experienced. He and Gleason left Miami Beach with $2,400, their biggest purse. That was last August. A month later they returned and beat Charles (Doc) Williams and got $1,300. Two weeks after that Valdes stopped Matt Daniels in two rounds in Tampa, Fla. It excited no interest and Valdes got only $200.

"We then went to Germany," said Gleason. "Nobody wanted us. We had won four straight. In Dortmund we knocked out Heinz Neuhaus, the European champion, in four rounds. We got $10,000."

"Maybe we'll go back to Germany. My guy is a hungry fighter. He's down in Havana now and I just got a letter from him asking for $300. He's on his honeymoon."

Given Runaround "If I could only undersell him to Al Weil, Marcan's manager. But we can't get together. Weil is ducking me."

Gleason proved his point, too. "Why don't you call Weil?" asked Gleason. "He's in now."

Weil's secretary promptly put him on. "If you call tomorrow I may have some news," Weil said.

Almost simultaneously Gleason picked up another phone and called Weil to talk about a Marciano match. He identified himself.

"Oh! You just missed him," came the voice from Weil's hotel suite. "See what I mean?" asked Gleason.

Seek Consulate Aid "If we can't get together I'll get the Cuban consulate to work on the authorities in this country. Why, my guy Valdes is a handsome 210-pound 6-3 guy and he's No. 1 with everybody—the National Boxing Association, the New York commission and Nat Fleischer (Ring magazine editor). What else does a guy have to do?"

The following day we phoned Weil. "As far as I'm concerned I'd like to take on two fighters this year," said Marciano's manager. "I don't care who is No. 1 I've got a year to defend and we'll take on all comers in time. Valdes is all right. We'll take him, too."

"But I think I owe Ezzard Charles a favor. We had promised him a set and sidestepped him in favor of Roland LaStarza last summer. Did you see what Charles did to Coley Wallace?"

Meanwhile, Gleason has posted a $5,000 certified check with the New York State Athletic Commission as a binder for a Marciano fight.

DON CHRISMER LEADS DELONE TO 60-40 WIN

With Don Chrismer setting a new floor record via 31 points, the Delone Catholic High cagers trounced Mt. Carmel Rams 60-40 in a Central Penn Catholic League first half game Sunday afternoon at McSherrystown. The game was a makeup of a previously postponed contest.

Chrismer's 13 goals and five fouls wiped out the previous Delone high individual total mark of 29 set last year by Jerry Smith.

Mt. Carmel, sporting a 6-9 record going into the game, took a 2-0 lead on fouls by Bach and O'Brien. The Squires came back with Chrismer landing two jump shots followed by Ruby Blair's lay up and Jude Smith's free throw. O'Brien hooped a push shot, but Chrismer tossed in two lay ups and a set shot. Tom Concavage took a steal and made good on a set shot, while Bill Coddington looped a foul, Jack Codori tossed in a free throw. With one minute remaining the Squires put on a freeze in order to make good on the one shot. The strategy worked as Chrismer hit on a set just as the buzzer sounded. The Squires were leading at the end of the first period 16-7.

Oriole Bandwagon Tours Area

Support of baseball fans in and around Baltimore as well as those in Baltimore City itself is needed if the new American League entry is to come anywhere near the record fan support of 1,800,000 set by Milwaukee in 1953, says John MacLean, who is shown on the Oriole Bandwagon, which is now touring cities and towns nearby Baltimore in "Oriole Country." Records whoop it up as the Bandwagon traverses important streets, with a message every now and then from the sports commentator which urges purchase of tickets now. MacLean also starred on recent telethon to promote Oriole ticket sales.

Myers Is Rated As Fine Fielder By Desautels

(This is the fourth in a series of bylined stories on future baseball stars. It was written expressly for AP Newsfeatures.)

By GENE DESAUTELS
Manager, Sacramento Solons
FLINT, Mich. (P)—Although we finished last in the Pacific Coast League we had three good prospects on the Sacramento team.

One is Richard Myers. This shortstop is small of stature, being only 5-8 and weighing about 155 pounds, but he is a splendid fielder.

In 153 games he hit 268 and among his big blows were three home runs, a triple and 19 doubles. Two other boys are pitchers. Both, however, are in the service.

Hurling Hopesful They are Roger Osenbaugh and Bud Watkins.

Osenbaugh will be a great pitcher if he improves as he did last season. He has "worlds of stuff," is very fast with a better than average curve ball.

His 4-7 record included a two-hit and a three-hit shutout. He had three complete games. With a little more control and experience he's going to be heard from.

Watkins, with a 3-3 record, had good stuff. He is smart and a good competitor. He had two complete games in the league and one of them was a three-hit shutout.

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The University of Pennsylvania had a new football coach today for the first time in 17 years.

He's 39-year old Steve Sebo, backfield coach at Michigan State College until he was named Saturday to succeed George Munger at Penn.

Sebo, a Michigan State grad, said he plans to make only gradual changes in the present Penn football set-up and will concentrate on getting more speed into the backfield formations.

Faces Tough Schedule The new coach, who was credited with much of the success of Michigan State's powerful offenses under head coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn, inherits one of the toughest major school schedules and will have to face it without the benefit of spring practice. Ivy League regulations prohibit any scrimmages before next fall.

Sebo received a three-year appointment with the faculty rank of an associate professor. He is only the third non-alumnus coach in Penn history.

He started his college coaching career in 1949 as backfield coach at Harvard, then moved to MSC the next year as freshman coach. He moved up to backfield coach in 1951 serving with Lowell (Red) Dawson, now head mentor at the University of Pittsburgh.

NEW POLE VAULT CHAMP CROWNED IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (P)—When the winner of an American pole vault event is neither Laz nor Richards, that is news. And that was the story on the 7th Annual Evening Star games.

The winner of Saturday night's competition was an unheralded 22-year-old veterinary student from Ohio State, Jerry Welbourn.

Richards Falls The Rev. Bob Richards, beaten twice within a week by Don Laz, stayed out of competition in the Star games, and Laz was considered a shoe-in to defend his title and meet record of 15 feet, 3 inches.

Both Laz and Welbourn cleared 14 feet, 4 inches and Welbourn had first shot at 14 feet, 8 inches. He made it. Laz missed his three tries.

Sharing the glory with Welbourn were Mike Acostini, the Trinidad sprint star who set a new world record, and two-miler Horace Ashenfelter and miler Len Truex, each of whom broke a meet standard.

Record For Ashenfelter Agostini, celebrating his 19th birthday, cut two tenths of a second off the world indoor 100-yard dash record, sprinting the distance in 9.6 seconds.

Ashenfelter, Olympic steeplechase champion, turned in a 9:02.9 two-mile to break his own record by two and one-tenth seconds.

Truex, besting Fred Wilt for the second straight night, lowered Browning Ross' record in the Star mile by three-tenths of a second, making the distance in 4:13.4.

Rex Layne Meets Jackson Tonight

NEW YORK (P)—Rex Layne of Lewiston, Utah, knocked out by Earl Walls in his last two starts, may be making his last stand on the TV circuit tonight when he fights Tommy Jackson at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway. The bout will be seen on TV (Dumont) in some sections of the country.

This is Jackson's first main event after some sensational work as a prelim boy. Despite his inexperience, he is an 8½ to 5 favorite.

INDIA JOINS TWO RED SATELLITES ON KOREAN VOTE

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR PANMUNJOM (P)—India joined Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia today in a 3-2 vote of the Korean repatriation commission disapproving the release of nearly 22,000 anti-Red Korean and Chinese prisoners by the U. N. Command.

Swiss and Swedish delegates backed the Allied action. Commission Chairman Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya of India said the vote was taken to get the five delegations' views on the record. The outcome had been expected.

On three previous occasions, India had sided with the Red stand that the prisoners must be kept in captive status until their fate is decided by a Korean peace conference.

The U. N. Command released the prisoners as civilians Saturday, asserting that was required by the armistice.

Chinese Welcome POWs It freed all the 7,500 anti-Red North Koreans and 14,000 Chinese turned over to the Allies by the Indian custodian command last week.

The first five ships, carrying 4,065 Chinese ex-POWs, arrived at Formosa today. The Chinese Nationalists received the men warmly. The Koreans were undergoing processing in deep South Korea.

There was no word on 21 Americans and 325 other pro-Red prisoners abandoned in the neutral zone by Indian guards at midnight Friday.

The Communist command had refused to accept custody of the 347. The Red propaganda position was that India should hold the prisoners indefinitely until a Korean peace conference.

There was speculation on the Allied side that the pro-Red POWs would remain in their unlocked compound until Indian troops leave Korea on or before Feb. 22.

Commission On Foreign U.S. Economic Policy Disagrees

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The idea looked good. He was new in office. He faced more problems than any man just taking on such a job. Particularly one who had spent his life soldiering, could be expected to master in a few months.

So President Eisenhower in 1953 appointed one commission after another to examine the problems on which he would have to make recommendations to Congress in 1954.

The Ideal Result
The ideal result for Eisenhower would be something like this:

Each commission would be composed of men who started out with a full range of different views but, after uncovering the realities in months of investigation, would turn in a unanimous report.

It would be truly ideal if such a commission contained, beside private citizens, Democratic and Republican members of Congress who wound up in harmony and unanimity. This would practically smother opposition in Congress when Eisenhower finally sent it his recommendations.

Unfortunately for Eisenhower, commissions don't always produce that ideal result. That was demonstrated when the 17-man commission on foreign economic policy gave him a report shot through with deep disagreement.

Two Fields Of Study
This commission had two main fields of study: foreign aid and trade.

In 1930, over the protest of more than 1,000 economists, former President Hoover signed into law the Hawley-Smoot bill passed by a Republican-controlled Congress and setting record high tariffs against foreign imports.

Within two years 25 countries had established retaliatory tariffs.

By that time the depression, which had started in 1929, was in full swing.

When the Democrats came in Secretary of State Cordell Hull was able to persuade the Democratic Congress, in the hope of reviving world trade, to pass the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act of 1934.

There The War Came
This allowed the President to cut tariffs on a country's goods provided such a country returned the favor by lowering tariffs on American goods.

The problem then—still a problem, since the Reciprocal Trade Act still stands—was to encourage trade by tariff cutting without letting in goods that would do damage, or much damage, to American industry.

But before this country was well out of the depression, the war came, and with it American lend-lease, which put trade on the shelf. When trade resumed after the war, this country moved to help foreign countries with loans or outright grants to get their economies going and at the same time provide them with dollars to buy American goods.

Since 1949 American economic aid, steadily overshadowed by military aid, has been decreasing. Some members of Congress want it ended altogether. And last year Eisenhower faced the question: should the Reciprocal Trade Act, scheduled to die in 1953 unless Congress renewed it, be kept alive to stimulate international business? Some of the Republicans wanted it ended.

Got Renewal
Eisenhower induced Congress to renew it for one more year at least, while he got the study commission started. Two commission members were heads of the congressional committees handling tariff questions, and both Republicans: Sen. Millikin of Colorado and Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York.

Millikin is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Reed is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. Both Reed and Millikin were in strong dissent on much of the commission's report, which, among other things, suggested keeping the Reciprocal Trade Act three more years and lowering many tariffs.

So now, after six months of work by the commission, the whole

Collingsworth of the VFW, Dean Bucher of the Eagles and a member to be named from the Dorsey-Stanton Legion.

Suggested during the discussion as possible avenues of approach to the problem were attempted to secure permission from persons having potential parking lots to the rear of their homes for cars to park there; possible placing of signs to parking areas, and the possibility of establishing parking lots at the ends of town and operation of a shuttle bus between the lots and the center of town on Saturdays.

President Bender reported net profit of $85.55 from the card party held recently by the Eagles as a benefit for the Community Chest. It was announced that the second in the series of public parties to be held by the clubs during the year for Community Chest will be held this Thursday evening at the Moose lodge.

Make Halloween Plans

The February party will be at Albert J. Lentz American Legion; March at the VFW and April at Dorsey-Stanton American Legion. The Elks lodge, it was announced, would not hold a party, but would donate an amount equal to the average of the sums realized by the parties.

Representatives of the lodges present reported their groups pleased by the Halloween parade held under auspices of the Association of Clubs. Warren Dunn of the Elks was appointed chairman of the 1954 Halloween parade committee with other members including Nevin Bush of the Moose, John German of the Eagles, Paul Anzengruber of the Lentz Legion, Frank Wisotzky of the VFW and with the new commander of the Stanton Legion to be appointed as a member.

Next meeting of the group will be held Sunday morning, April 25, at the Lentz Legion at 10:30 o'clock.

problem of aid and trade will be examined again in Congress, no matter what Eisenhower recommends, with Millikin and Reed leading the examining.

History of Program

Ralph Blaney, of the Pennsylvania State University staff, spoke on the history of the Agricultural Extension movement. Now a half century old, the extension program started in 1903 when the federal government arranged for farm demonstrations in Texas, he said. The first state to make an appropriation toward extension was Iowa in 1906. Pennsylvania named its first director of extension in 1907. The first home economics worker was named in 1910 in Virginia. In 1914 the program was set up generally with federal funds, matched by state funds, and with the land grant colleges operating the extension service.

Extension's job, Blaney said, "is to make the best use of our resources, and to see that it is done by people, not for them." The "student body" of agricultural extension is continually changing, he added. "In ten years one-third of the families in your community are new ones."

Educate Farmers

"Biggest job of extension has been the application of scientific principles to the production of food through a program of providing education to the farmers. It has resulted in better farms and better crops than we had 25 years ago, or even ten years ago. Total food production has increased 40 per cent, crop yields generally have shown a 25 per cent increase, milk production per cow is up 25 per cent, eggs produced per hen are up 47 per cent. Our feeling on the matter is that it is less important to worry about food surpluses than to worry about a scarcity of food."

Miss Sanna Black and William Johnstone, of the State University Extension staff, spoke on family budgets and what should be included in them. Both pointed out that "a budget is a plan to make the best use of income and not a plan to skimp. It is a plan to get what you want from your money and it should be drawn up by the entire family, mother, father and the children."

County Agent Frank Zettie was introduced and spoke briefly. President Russell Spangler presided at the meeting.

BENNY FIELDS, CROONER, SAYS "HAM IT UP"

By YAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Ham it up!" This is the advice of old-time crooner Benny Fields to anyone trying to make a success of marriage—or anything else.

"If you're not a ham, no matter what business you're in, no matter what in life you're trying to do," said Benny, "you'll never be any good in it."

To Benny "ham" means a food to the spirit instead of the body, or as he puts it—"the ability to keep on enthusing, and not take your next song or your next breath for granted."

Fields, hailed by Bing Crosby as America's first crooner, was a prince in the days when vaudeville was king. And he married a crown princess, Blossom Seeley, a famous star who introduced many famous jazz songs the teen-agers today still like to hum.

32 Years Of Trouping
They have trouped together for 32 years, and most of the years were fat, but some of them were lean. Sometimes Blossom was starved, sometimes Benny; often they shared top billing.

Benny said it never made any difference to either of them.

"If two married people start getting jealous of each other's career," he said, "they don't have a marriage. They've just got a financial arrangement."

Blossie and Benny, who don't mind at all being called "Mr. and Mrs. Show Business" are started together again now on two daily programs over station WGMG here.

"We aren't exactly dice jockeys," said Benny. "We just add a little music. But we worked up to a top rating in just 14 weeks, and Blossie did a jig."

"Girl Still Flips"
"That girl still flips. And she used to have everything—big money, big cars, chauffeurs, maids—everything. That's what I mean by ham; you have to entice to do good work. And once you really got it, you never lose it."

Benny says it's the same way with married life. He pointed out that many famous marriages in the show world have survived the hardships and temptations of a precarious field—George Burns and Gracie Allen, Jack Benny and Mary Livingston, Fred Allen and Portland Hoffa, and Eddie and Ida Cantor.

Why do so many of Hollywood's career marriages break up?
"Probably because they don't team their careers," said Benny. "You can't make love over the telephone indefinitely."

Face Many Hazards
"Marriage has more hazards than a golf course. Two married people can have careers, but I think they have to have them together. There are too many pitfalls if they stay apart too long or too often."

"Blossie and I get up at the same time. We breakfast together, talk over our business together, go to work together, come home together. It has to be that way or it don't make sense."

"And you can't bear malice. Back in 1929 I invested Blossie's money for her. I made wrong guesses, just like a lot of other guys did. I lost $200,000 she had put by. I lost everything I had my."

Favors Air Force Academy For State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. James Duff (R-Pa.) says he hopes Pennsylvania will be selected as location for a proposed U. S. Air Force Academy.

"We have unrivaled facilities in the state for it," Duff said. A bill to establish such an academy has been approved in the House of Representatives. The Pennsylvania senator, who is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, has said he will urge prompt Senate action on the bill.

SAYS REVENUE WILL BE CUT BY BUSINESS DIPS

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Wa.) said today the Eisenhower administration may have overestimated tax revenues by making no allowances in its new budget for any dips in business in the next year.

Byrd, a Senate Finance Committee member who has worked closely in the past with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge, said in an interview he fears a "levelling off" process may take place in 1954 from the record high production of 1953.

"I'm not predicting any depression or recession," the Virginia senator said, "but this prosperity is going to be difficult to maintain without dips."

Takes Exception
Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), going farther than Byrd, last night accused the budget makers of "false assumptions" and said the deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1, instead of the figure of less than three billion dollars predicted by President Eisenhower, "will be more like 4 to 4½ billion."

Humphrey, interviewed on a DuMont television show, listed among the assumptions he termed false:

That postal revenues will be higher, that business activity will continue at the 1953 level, that corporation and excise taxes will not be lowered and that the nation will not experience an economic recession.

self, including a $200,000 insurance policy. And there were some bad years.

She Never Complained
"But Blossie never beefed once about the lost money. Never. She wore cloth coats and was cold, and she had had three mink coats. She never complained. There's a girl with protocol—a real diplomat."

The phone rang for Benny in the restaurant where they were lunching. He answered it, and returned, saying:

"I have to go now. Blossie went to get her hair done, and didn't bring along any money. I have to go bail her out—that cute little monkey."
